Unclaimed property is money or assets that have been separated from their owner for at least five years. Often, the owner doesn't know the property exists.

EXAMPLES OF UNCLAIMED
PROPERTY INCLUDE:

- Abandoned savings and checking accounts
- Stocks, bonds, mutual funds and paid-up life insurance policies
- Safety deposit box items
- Refunds and credit balances
- Certificates of deposit

People regularly lose track of their assets when they move homes or loved ones pass away. Businesses and banks are required to turn over the unclaimed accounts to the Treasurer's Office.
